

Someone skipping rope right next to an ambulance

253rd published work

This morning, as usual, I was skipping rope, incorporating some variation into my daily routine, when an ambulance with its red lights flashing stopped in front of the entrance.

Bomb behind

I finished my exercise by concentrating on jumping rope without worrying about anything. My neighbors probably know the order of my daily schedule well because it's something they do every day.

- ① Skipping rope (outdoors)
- ② Ballet practice, flexibility exercises, shadow boxing (indoors)
- ③ Piano
- ④ Saxophone
- ⑤ Violin
- ⑥ Earn a little money by taking point surveys
- ⑦ Posting additional works and editing pages on my site

I can now almost play the additional song "yesterday once more" in ③. I think I'm improving every day in ⑤.