

The bodycon mini dress I was looking for

I found the bodycon knit dress I was looking for in the storage bag.
This dress really shows off your body lines.

There are only 12 hours left until the 25th... It seems there is some kind of dispute with the Ministry of Health, Labor and Welfare regarding a reduction in the amount of welfare benefits, so I was wondering if it would be a good idea to file the following claim?

① As a concrete preparatory document, obtain numerical data on the reduction in payment amounts for all recipients in each administrative jurisdiction (obtained through a request for disclosure of public documents)

② The Tokyo District Court has already ruled that the reduction is unconstitutional. Attach the document mentioned in ① above and the certified copy to the Tokyo District Court and request enforcement proceedings.

The address should be the court clerk, not the judge.

Also, as in the play "Dal Segno," an appraiser will accompany the bailiff.

“Dulsenño” solemnly

Also, by the way,

As in the work "Shukku to Dal Segno," an appraiser will accompany the bailiff.

I just received a personal document in the mail to tone down the financial matters, but the other matter is urgent, so I sent it by express, and the financial matter is this one below,

Well, they were sent at the same time and in the same city...

By the way, I'm always sending out some kind of document, so I've got a habit of looking at it from the sender's perspective...

Legislation...bureaucratic level

Administration...same or lawyer level

Judicial...definitely lawyer level

I haven't spent a single yen since July 6th, and I have three days left until my welfare benefits start... Today, July 29th, I just bought the following items on Rakuten Edy (I got 500 yen off exchanging points for a survey this morning): 1. Sliced bread (6 slices) 2. Sliced cheese (7 slices) 3. Coffee milk (1L) I can't even think of giving up... I've managed to complete all my daily tasks in this state and here I am now... People can do anything if they try... This experience will give me great confidence in the future, thinking, 'I may not have money, but I've overcome it before, so it's okay.' I don't think there's any greater confidence than this.
