

Self-proclaimed and generally recognized: Bicycle starter

Regardless of time or place

However, if parking it lying on its side is the current trend, I'll stop immediately

Because there's some merit to parking it lying on its side

It could fall over and get damaged, or scratch other bicycles.

Good morning.

In this day and age, even with a university degree and multiple qualifications,

(in my case, the qualifications section of my resume is always attached as a separate sheet)

it's quite common to end up receiving welfare benefits like me.

There are even people who graduated from the University of Tokyo who are in the same situation, so it's important to be grateful for the jobs you have.
