

"Yeah " because there's no rosin on it.

I didn't know there was a chance to try out the violin...

Last Sunday, I went to the music store in Stella Place, where I usually try out pianos.

For the first time, I saw a violin available for trial playing.

The pitch staff had various colors on it, but there was almost no rosin on the bow, so

I tried playing it with some force.

Finally, I said to a young woman I didn't know who was on a date next to me—who was clearly not an employee and a complete stranger—"There's no rosin on it," she replied...

"Yeah."
